This position involves assisting residents with daily living activities, ensuring their comfort and safety, and promoting their overall well-being. The ideal candidate will possess a strong commitment to enhancing the quality of life for seniors and individuals with memory care needs.

Duties

- Assist residents with daily activities such as bathing, dressing, grooming, and eating.
- Administer medications as prescribed and monitor residents for any side effects or changes in condition.
- Provide support for residents with memory care needs, ensuring a safe and engaging environment.
- Help residents with mobility and transfers, including lifting when necessary.
- Monitor vital signs and report any significant changes to nursing staff.

- Maintain accurate records of resident care and communicate effectively with team members.
- Foster positive relationships with residents, encouraging social interaction and participation in community activities.
- Ensure cleanliness and safety within the living environment.

Skills

- Experience in home care or caregiving is preferred.
- Knowledge of medication administration protocols.
- Familiarity with memory care techniques and practices.
- Ability to perform basic nursing tasks such as taking vital signs.
- Strong interpersonal skills to effectively communicate with residents, families, and team members.
- Compassionate nature with a genuine desire to help others.
- Ability to lift and assist residents safely as needed.
- Experience in assisted living or retirement home settings is a plus.

This role is essential in creating a nurturing atmosphere that promotes dignity, respect, and independence for all residents.
